we just two distant strangers /

unknown like two distant strangers / all my life i wanted to become famous / so when i die i won't become nameless / tried suicide, man i haven't been the same since /
how could i cry see i've become painless /
'cause my name is not on the A-list / had me going crazy i was brainless / staring in the mirror so shameless / to the top exactly where my aim is /
but can't take the shot if you aimless /
i want the high score when the game ends /
i want to fly high where the planes live / felt like my heart was so stainless / and the look in her face explains it / see it took some time to see the changes / feels like we two distant strangers /

It's so strange to me, how you've changed /
How it use to be, I don't even know your name /
It's so strange to me, how you've changed /
How it use to be, now it will never be the same /

i use to say i'm everything you need / she use to say you the reason i breath /

for everything i made you believe / and nothing I show i've achieved / ever since i was conceived
all i wanted to do was succeed /
but i failed and my soul emptied / had you crying so much your tears bleed / promise me you won't follow my lead /
'cause honestly it was all for greed /
i gotta know this is agreed /

one kiss and then she leaves /
now i'm diving deep in the sea /
so deep, a thousand leagues / too far for radars to read /
two strangers, you and me /

It's so strange to me, how you've changed /
How it use to be, I don't even know your name /
It's so strange to me, how you've changed /
How it use to be, now it will never be the same /

It's so strange to me, how you've changed /
How it use to be, I don't even know your name /
Its so strange to me, how you've changed /
How it use to be, now it will never be the same /

the same, the same /
now it will never be the same /
now it will never be the same /
