maybe he'll understand when he's older / but when she called him to tell him it was over / with that on his shoulders / wished he could be somebody else like the end of october /
thought the westside couldn't get colder /
a dream he didn't want to wake up from, Folgers / you wanna see love, ask any soldier / got love for his country like we will never know of /
and this is his pledge allegiance / if you jump off the ledge have a damn good reason / i mean she tried to please him /
you know keep keep keep her clothes in season / hair did, nails done looking quite nice / still cheating his wife, got caught twice / pastor said till death do us part / all she want to know is why he don't he do his part / understand that pain is temporary /

i know what you going through is kinda scary /
but it just takes time, it just takes time /

just takes time, its just takes time, just takes time time /
everything will be fine, it just takes time, just takes
time, just takes time /

what happens when you don't know what happens next
laid off from the job no more paychecks / now things unstable like when baby first stepped / all you want to be is happy like when baby first stepped
and i know that you going through some problems, yes
and you don't have an answer, at least take a guess / can you call the cleaning lady when your life's in mess?
really think a cigarette gonna clear that stress? /
if i could i would, i would trade you places / ain't nothing better than seeing familiar faces / denied the loan cause of bad credit traces / need money for the rent and your baby girl's braces / seem like the world crooked as her tooth is / you want the top, other side where the roof is / cashed out on the 401k / might never see your retirement day /

understand that pain is temporary /
i know what you going through is kinda scary /
but it just takes time, it just takes time /

just takes time, its just takes time, just takes time time /
everything will be fine, it just takes time, just takes
time, just takes time /

her mother was an angel, her father he was korean / separated at birth, both her parents she never seen
'em /
and in the back of her mind she never stop believing / wants to know if they loved her and why did they leave then /
she thinks about it when she's sleeping /
any other words when she's dreaming / and maybe that's the reason she dealing with some weak men /
'cause she can't handle when real love sneaks in / so she lives for the weekend / like "what you doing girl, we going out this weekend" / all in the club like "i think that might be him" / you know mr. "can i buy you a drink then?" / and they just friends, and it's just sex /
'cause to her a real relationship is complex / or maybe she afraid of the concept / once again, to get left on the doorsteps /

understand that pain is temporary /
i know what you going through is kinda scary /
but it just takes time, it just takes time /

just takes time, its just takes time, just takes time time /
everything will be fine, it just takes time, just takes

just takes time, just takes time , just takes time /

just takes time time, everything will be fine / just takes time, just takes time /
