Frequently baby I'm changing my mind
Running around with you
Searching your eyes for an answer
Of something true
But when I turned back around to come get you
You've got a lot away
I'd kiss you goodbye if I thought it would make you stay

Cause my white flag is waving in the air
With the holes that you will see
What a fool I'd be to pass someone who offered it me

I need to find a way
I need to find a reason
Surrender in your arms collapsed as you take over me
I need to find a way
I need to find a reason
I need to find a place to rest my head
And bring your heart back to my bed
I offer you

Lesson these words fighting for a change and letting them
Memories look so sad
Wish I had a hold on the days that we wished we had
This was supposed to be my hit song
Then I wasted it all on you
Tomorrow is near and I'm not gonna waste it too

Cause my white flag is waving in the air
With the holes that you will see
What a fool I'd be to pass someone who offered it me

I need to find a way
I need to find a reason
Surrender in your arms collapsed as you take over me
I need to find a way
I need to find a reason
I need to find a place to rest my head
And bring your heart back to my bed
I offer you

I need to find a way
I need to find a reason
Surrender in your arms collapsed as you take over me
I need to find a way
I need to find a reason
Surrender in your arms collapsed as I take over You
I need to find a way
I need to find a reason
I need to find a place to rest my head
And bring your heart back to my bed
Find a place to rest my head
And bring your heart back to my bed
I offer you
