"So Long"

You should have known that you'd be here again
Making the same mistakes
For the same reasons
Not everyone deserves a second chance
Why are you so in love with bittersweet romance?

It's alright
It's ok
I'll still be here when all of this is over

So long
Goodbye
Now just fall asleep
To this lullaby
That i'll sing to
To you every night
I know your world's a mess but everything will be alright

I should have known that you'd be here again
Why do broken hearts hold on to broken friends?
Not everything that's good was meant to last
But if it never was, it never had a chance
(you never had a chance)

[Chorus]

I know your world's a mess but everything will be
alright
(now just close your eyes and kiss them all goodbye)
I know your world's a mess but everything will be
alright
(so just close your eyes, just close your eyes)

So long
Goodbye
Now just fall asleep
Like you do every night
And when you wake up
I'll still be by your side
I know your world's a mess but everything will be
alright
