SUMMER SONG [translation]

The sun is on my side because you're waving to me, suntanned and all Have been anticipating this Diving like a mermaid into the season of promises

In a corner of the school grounds the sunflowers are blooming Just being shy will look uncool To the extent of wanting to yell into the blue sky now I? m thinking of you

Summer is here so let's go to the sea Though there may be days where we stop in our tracks and feel lost just for a second

Disheartening days Revitalizing days Meeting you and laughing together
The summer holidays are beginning lan la lan la~

Because true emotions are reflected upon the back of my running figure It shimmers on the other side of my T-shirt just like magic

Your words which are being drown out by the sounds of the fireworks, dissolve into the night breeze Can't hear the important details but I seem to know what it is

Ah long long long time I have been longing for this Youth is something which is a teeny bit mean isn't it

Disheartening days Revitalizing days Meeting you and
laughing together
The summer holidays are beginning lan la lan la~

Sitting on the sandy shores Both of us taking notice of the time Hearing the sound of the waves and being unable to make any promise at all

Definitely will feel nostalgic someday Can't depend on the future written in the sand

Disheartening days Revitalizing days Meeting you and
laughing together

?It?s a bright red-blue?

Because summer is here we came to the sea Don?t wish to forget that sky where the rainbow has formed

Disheartening days Revitalizing days Meeting you and
laughing together
The summer holidays are beginning lan la lan la~
