The Eagles
"Somebody"

You feel bad but not bad enough
You know you had it comin' because you played so rough
Back over your shoulder, got a icy chill
And you thought you'd get away with it, now you know you never will

Somebody, somebody
You got a feelin' somebody's followin' you

No one knows about the times you have
You've been so evil, you know you've been so bad
There's a devil to pay for what you put them through
And you got a feelin' somebody's followin' you

Somebody, somebody
You got a feelin' somebody's followin' you
Somebody, somebody
You got a feelin' somebody's followin' you

There's a jack-o-lantern moon in the midnight sky
Somebody gonna live, somebody gonna die
But down in the graveyard on that old tombstone
There's a big black crow and it's callin' you home

Somebody, somebody
You got a feelin' somebody's followin' you
Somebody, somebody
You got a feelin' somebody's followin' you

Somebody, you know there's somebody
