i kept quiet for a minute or two gave my eyes a chance to adjust to the room you said 'welcome' with the slightest hint of a smile curling up around the side of your lips
i knew...

but i've only been thinking of you for quite some time,
but i need answers,
it's time for questioning

who are you?
what is your name?
how'd i find myself another puzzle piece in your game?
if it's true, what can i do but smile and pray it wasn't
you...

you stand deferred but i don't know why your ability to hinder me is unjustified and rude you fake a smile at the drop of a hat like a 21st century cheshire cat
i knew...

but i've only been thinking of you for quite some time,
but i need answers,
it's time for questioning

who are you?
what is your name?
how'd i find myself another puzzle piece in your game?
if it's true, what can i do but smile and pray it wasn't
you...
