Tragedy ringtone on your mobile phone the time has come for words to fail you you're silent but sincere and i swear it isn't hard for fate to tail you you're hiding in the corner of your mind this is a murder scene - a freezing cold reality and i can see you've been here once before talk to me of your tragedy the demons you can't beat those keeping you from sleep i got a guilty smile that says you never will admit when you're scared that bitterness will get the best of you it sinks it's teeth in those under-prepared so you've found an antidote to erase the pain that time has wrote? well i should hope you've brought enough for two

talk to me of your tragedy
and i will try to be on your side if you promise to stay warm i will keep you safe from harm
