'wear your scars with pride' she said,
'there is no hiding it.
only time can heal your wounds, time and bandages'

you were the bravest of the lot
but a lot it got you!
you were the martyr
and they were the fire
now you're burning yourself in the name of the liars it's too bad
that you were had

there was no election only frowns and stares in your direction your future cemented you were cut out of stone like they left you in that hospital wing
they were scared to death to leave you alone

you were the bravest of the lot
but a lot it got you!
it's too bad

you weren't an easy sell, but hey, you're not invincible an artificial heart for an artificial girl...

'wear your scars with pride' she said,
