You have been struggling to see actuality
Actually, it doesn't surprise me
And you wear....frozen to the core
I'm not wearing anything awful

But you are pulling the world over, wouldn't you rather know
That I am overindulging you, it's so easy though

You're coming up for air
Happier down there
In your aftershave ocean
Lies, difficult to face
Floating out in space
In your aftershave ocean

I could be talking out of line, you could put me straight
And I'd say I don't understand you You'd say "oh, let... come give me a kiss Come give me a piece of your mind"

'Cause you are pulling the world over, wouldn't you rather know
That I am overindulging you, it's so easy though

You're coming up for air
Happier down there
In your aftershave ocean
Lies, difficult to face
Floating out in space
In your aftershave ocean

Oh you are pulling the world over, wouldn't you rather know
That I am overindulging you, it's so easy though

You're coming up for air
Happier down there
In your aftershave ocean
I get water up my nose
I have to dry my clothes
In your aftershave ocean

Lies, difficult to face
Floating out in space
In your aftershave ocean

You're coming up for air
Happier down there
In your aftershave ocean
Lies, difficult to face
Floating out in space
In your aftershave ocean
