All day, all night I've been thinking
Why feelin' wrong feels so right
And I know, yeah I try
To turn myself around but I know what I like

I'm nice, no I'm quite a dick
I'm the bad guy who's making you sick
It's easy for me, I got no shame
I have mountain fulls of money and fame

Everybody wants to be like me
The villain is the one that you came to see
I'm sick of all the good guys saving the day
'Cause the villain always wins when the hero's away

There's days when I want to give in,
But it's hard to be a saint when you're full of sin
Why would I ever think of going back,
When it feels so fuckin' good to be bad?

Everybody wants to be like me
The villain is the one that you came to see
I'm sick of all the good guys saving the day
'Cause the villain always wins when the hero's away

I know that secretly everyone's rooting for me!

(Solo)

Everybody wants to be like me
The villain is the one that you came to see
I'm sick of all the good guys saving the day
'Cause the villain is here to stay!

Everybody wants to be like me
The villain is the one that you came to see
I'm sick of all the good guys saving the day
'Cause the villain always wins when the hero's away

I'm here to stay, I'm the villain
And the villain always wins when the hero's away
