

Violens

"Something Falling"

Visit "Something Falling" on MotoLyrics.com

At some point in my life there will be tremendous pain
From here until that moment I'm motionless and plain
From here until that moment I'm keeping in complaints
From here until that moment motionless and plain
If my life should change diversion would be king
I'd need someone by my side to pass the time and sing
Time is all it takes for everything to fade
Time is all it takes for a sadness to decay

Something's going to fall
Waiting for a call
Fill my days where nothing's wrong
[x2]

We choose the ones around us but blood is written in
You make your own decisions, deciding to begin
Before we go much further consider where we've been
Before we go much further consider where we've been

Something's going to fall
Waiting for a call
Fill my days where nothing's wrong
[x4]

Visit Violens page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.