All My Life I waited for you a chance at something brand new something real to hold on too

As time kills it kills real fast and I just want for this to last i hope thats ok with you

So please dont tear me apart please dont rip out my heart and watch it bleed on the floor When its cold and i cant breathe the shadow of your memory brings me back to you and know im home cause your all i'll ever need you make me feel so free when im down and out and weak you still believe im am not invinsable and these times, can get so old even in the freezing cold so let me go, to make it warm heal these wounds that were torn forget the past and lets move foward Cause all my life has been a wave crashing into the bitter days please come, and take me away

When its cold and i cant breathe

you still believe

Solo

When its cold and i cant breathe
