

Boyish Good Looks "Sunset"

My eyes are fixed
Just above the dashboard
And my hands are clinched
To the steering wheel
As I'm driving home to you

I can't wait to see you
The sun is setting
But my heart still beats for you

Are you waiting up for me?
And are you ready to see me?

Fifteen miles

Ten minutes more
Until I park this car
Under your garage door
And say, "hello"

Are you waiting up for me?
Turn around
Are you waiting for?
Are you waiting for me?

The sun is setting, but my heart still beats for you
