Cindy has a special talent
She dreams things and they become true
Don't know why can't explain it
She dreams things and they become true

She and I work in an office
A big building full of roaming minds
She's immersed fighting the currents
Secret brutalities of every kind

Just can't keep from going through my head
What Cindy said
And I just can't keep from going through my head
What Cindy said

Lately she has been so peaceful
A warm glow settled on her mind
Said I know when they're coming
But more than that she never defined

I don't know how to answer

Is it out dancing or sex or what I'd better ask somebody cooler
Just what she meant when she asked me that will you jump with me

will you jump with me
will you jump with me
will you jump with me

Just can't keep from going through my head
What Cindy said

And I just can't keep from going through my head
What Cindy said
Cindy said
