"Little Thing"

I don't expect that we'll be going slowly
This isn't gonna take much time
We're good for anything but there is only
One thought is itching through my mind

It's just one little thing you do yeah
Just this one little thing you do

You're just exactly what I've always hoped for Bright and dignified and true
But there is someone else behind a closed door
Will she come take the place of you oh...

It's just one little thing you do yeah

Just this one little thing you do mm I'd like to know where you had come from mm I'd like to know where you had been I'd like to know who's living in you

What will she do when our together life begins

It's just one little thing you do yeah
Just this one little thing you do yeah

oh.....oh....
