Bobby was a boy from the country but there were'nt much there for him to do
So Bobby came down to the city here
Where he could meet a lot of women -
(and drink a lot of brew)

To support himself and acquire wealth he took a job that no one else would do

He's got those &#%^ Damn, More than you can stand
"Jesus! This Job Sucks" Blues

Talkin' in a bar one Friday
He met a downtown-debutante
Well, she made a lot of money
(so it may sound funny)
The girl didn't have everything she wants

She was bored with the way
She works all day

And walks home in her tennis shoes

She's got those &#%^ Damn, More than you can stand
"Jesus! This Job Sucks" Blues

(Bridge)
Now friends I have crossed this country
I'll tell you what I have seen:
A whole lot of people feelin' sick and tired
And basically-bored with their whole routine
If you feel that way
You should act today!
(the only thing you have to lose . . .

Are those &#%^ Damn, More than you can stand
"Jesus! This Job Sucks" Blues
