"Let Me Down"

Do you remember all the days we used to laugh?
Not a worry bout' the future or the past
Now I'm buried underground in so much debt
With all the things that haven't even happened yet

Now I can't find my way back
I've been searching for so long
And I'm stuck in these dead ends
Now I can't find my way back home

No, don't shut me out
And don't let me down
No, don't shut me out
And don't let me down

I know you're not one to go back
On all the things that you said
But please try, oh try you're best
To not let me down again

Cause we're fucked and we know it
And we're scared cause we show it
This is me falling
This is me giving up on us

I've had a dream turn into nothing in just days
I've watched my hero's turn their backs and walk away
But it I could change the past all for myself
I wouldn't trade anything with anybody else
With anybody else.
