Villain, not my hero
Twisted, infectious man
Somehow you always seem to fail again
Fake heart, not for healing
False hope, trick the brain
I think that deep down you believe we're insane

Everybody run, to cauterize the pain
This evil has a name
Hell behind the sun, we consecrate the blame
So evil has a name

Promise, not for keeping
Conscience, out of mind
We drift through life believing you're too kind
Smile, gracious waving
Wave back, cheer and cry with
One life to fear or live which way we like

Everybody run, to cauterize the pain
This evil has a name
Hell behind the sun, we consecrate the blame
So evil has a name

Evil

Everybody run, to cauterize the pain
This evil has a name
Hell behind the sun, we consecrate the blame
So evil has a name

Everybody run, this constant life of shame, when evil has a name
The sorrow and the pain, a product of the game
Your evil has a name
This evil has a name
