"Love Today"

Today could be the day that life will blast before your eyes
So it's better be the day you learn to love again
Today could be the day
The stars come falling through the sky
Standing in the rain
Standing in the rain singing
Today could be the day
You see that old familiar face
Smiling and laughing one last time
Today could be the day
You feel that sweet and warm embrace
As everybody's here
As everybody's here
Don't waste another precious minute
Love today
You gotta love today
Know that you would never regret it
Love to day
You gotta love today
Today could be the day
When day will shine throughout the night
And standing all together hand in hand
Today could be the day
We join the river of life
Flowing all together
Flowing all together singing
