She ran away from fears and thought that they were nothing
She needed help but nothing good was coming

She searched for love in all the wrong places
She kept on running into all the wrong faces, 'cause

She was a broken star
Taking, this way too far
Burning, from inside out
One step, from breaking out

One day she woke up
And saw her two kids
Praying to God, For her Forgiveness
With Love, the Lord pours in her
I love my mom, i'll never forget her

She was a broken star
Taking, this way too far
Burning, from inside out
