I feel my heart beat on a Saturday night
Watching pretty girls under flashing lights
Is there one for me, is there one for me
I see them leave the clubs with these awful guys
I know it can't be good, it can't be wise
Now I'm wondering, it's got me wondering

I know it's complicated
There's lust unsatiated
Will I ever understand
Can I be satisfied
I know I'm probably jaded
There's time, I should be patient
It's so hard to comprehend
Maybe I'll just give in
I know it's complicated

I feel the rain fall down out a' the sky
Splashing on my face, so I'm asking why
There's gravity, why's there gravity
I see houses bein' all run down
The bottles in the streets and I don't know how
There's depravity, how's there depravity

I know it's complicated
There's greed unsatiated
Will I ever understand

Can I be satisfied
I know I'm probably jaded
There's time, I should be patient
It's so hard to comprehend
Maybe I'll just give in
I know it's complicated

I read on the web, what politicians say
About our problems and about the way
I should be living, I should be living
I hear a little voice on my radio
Givin' us the answer .. Is that all we know
About the big things, about the big things

I know it's complicated
There's greed unsatiated
Will I ever understand
Can I be satisfied
I know I'm probably jaded
There's time, I should be patient
It's so hard to comprehend
Maybe I'll just give in
I know it's complicated
