Everything must converge in time
And so it goes, by and by
Everything must converge some day
Somehow, some way

Everything must converge in time
(Everything must converge)
Or so it seems and by and by
Every little thing must converge it's true
(Everything must converge)
By and by and so they say

Like the river that runs to the sea
Like the sun going down on me

Everything must converge one day
(Everything must converge)
But I hope and I pray
That everything must converge it's true
(Everything must converge)
In time for me and you

Like the river that runs to the sea
Like the sun going down on me

(Everything must converge)
Everything must converge
(Everything must converge)
Everything must converge in time
(Everything must converge)
In time, in time
