So tell me where you came from was it love or by light
Tell me when you met me did it feel just right
Tell me where you're going to who you wish to be
Tell me dark dark secrets or childhood memories

If you let me in I promise never to ask again
All I want to know is what's on your mind

So tell me about your past loves were they hard to trust
Do you feel you gave them to much or not enough
Tell me who you answer to who you most adore
Tell me what you hold sacred who you ignore

If you let me in I promise never to ask again
All I want to know is what's on your mind

All I want to know all I ever need to know
When I ask you your thought those words are hard to find
Come here baby now close your eyes
Tell me that I'm the one who's on your mind
Tell me that I'm the one on your mind
So tell me
