Black days of winter all were through
The blossoms came and they brought you
Clouds left the sky, I knew the reason why
They made way for you
And the blossom and the blossom

The seasons cycle turned again
An April shower now and then
Trees came alive, bees left their hive
They came out to see you
And the blossom and the blossom

People were laughing, smiling with the sun
They knew that summer had begun

The days grew warm, the nights grew long
Spring turned to summer and was gone
It seemed so fine, the cider and the wine
But I knew you'd go
With the blossom, with the blossom

When spring returns, I'll look again
To find another blossom friend
Until I do, find something new
I'll just think of you
And the blossom and the blossom
I'll just think of you and the blossom
