"Burned"

I thought about what you said
You wrote it all in my head
A chapter's about regret
To forgive is not to forget

The lies are all incomplete

The ending is make believe
You wrote it all with such ease
It brought your friends to their knees

Did you think of me
When you couldn't sleep
Burned by your sun

The rhymes don't make such sense
The prose is of no consequence
With these words you have no control

Did you think of me
When you couldn't sleep
Burned by your sun

And still it makes no sense
You believe in your own defence
You say that you want to leave
But to see is not to believe
