

Dianna Corcoran

"If You Hear Angels"

Visit "If You Hear Angels" on MotoLyrics.com

I know you're going through hell
You put on that brave face but I can tell
And I know it's selfish and wrong
And I should let go but I'm not that strong
Cause you are my everything, all of my reason
The air that I'm breathing

So if you hear angels calling your name
Convincing you that they will take all your pain
I beg of you, beg of you, don't let go
I need you down here more then they'll ever know
So turn around, as sweet as they sound
If you hear angels

Oh I, I wish I could be
All of the things that you are to me
Oh and how, how can you give,
As much as you do while you're fighting to live
Oh you are amazing it's me that you're saving and
Now I am praying you'll stay

So if you hear angels calling your name
Convincing you that they will take all your pain
I beg of you, beg of you, don't let go
I need you down here more then they'll ever know
So turn around, as sweet as they sound
If you hear angels

Don't listen to what they may say
Cause they don't need you
As much as I need you today

If you hear angels calling your name
Convincing you that they will take all your pain
I beg of you, beg of you, don't let go
I need you down here more then they'll ever know
So turn around, as sweet as they may sound
If you hear angels, ooh

