Take my eyes, my melody
For i choose not to see
Mix my blood with honey
For the taste so sweet

I felt it moving through my skin
This feeling wrapped around my sin

Woe in my head, my soul, my memory
My loving home, my family

I'm shedding off my innocence
For the lizzard I choose to be
To be young my friend is a curse none the less
And a curse I choose to leave

I felt it moving through my skin
This feeling wrapped around my sin

Woe in my head, my soul, my memory
My loving home, my family
I know they'll come for me
If I need, if I need
For I see the love in you
It feeds me, it feeds me

You, you fell upon my place
And you make the same mistakes

My head, my soul, my memory
My loving home, my family
They'll come, they'll come for me
If I need, If I need
For I see the love in you
It feeds me, it feeds me
