"Dyin' Inside"

In me there are a million different pieces to my heart
And at any moment they could fall apart
And leave me lost

My mind hasn't been made up in years
There's million voices are ringing in my ears
And I feel lost

I'm dying inside
From the way I live my life
I'm stuck inside in a web made up of my doubt
I fear I'll never find my way out
I'm dying inside

Some days I run around in circles just to find

I am searching for what's right before my eyes
But I'm still lost

Today I'm staring the truth right in the face
But I can't find the strength to let it stay
In my heart

I'm dying inside
From the way I live my life
I'm stuck inside in a web made up of my doubt
I fear I'll never find my way out
I'm dying inside
