Well I tried to forget you
Get you out my mind but you're stuck like glue
And you, make it hard to breath
I'm banging at the walls with my head so please
Can I get away from here
I lose my cool every time you're near
I can't really take this torture, I can't take this pain

If you said march I'd march on the double
Take all the blame so you'd never be in trouble
Jump I'd jump, say count I'd count to one, two ten

But I can't let you go, no I can't let you go
You're a fixture in my brain and I can't live life this way
No I can't let you go, no I can't let you go
I'm running and running and running and running away
I can't let you go

We had our moments love
Is there a piece of you that thinks I'm enough
Or am I chasing tales again
I have this stupid habit of tripping up on them
Let's give this one more try
I'm tired of talking to myself every night
You've got a hold on me baby now can't you see
Dying alone here, I need you next to me

If you said march I'd march on the double
Take all the blame so you'd never be in trouble
Jump I'd jump, say count I'd count to one, two ten

But I can't let you go, no I can't let you go
You're a fixture in my brain and I can't live life this way
No I can't let you go, no I can't let you go
I'm running and running and running and running away
I can't let you go

Now is it always quite this bad?
Should I really be this sad
I need to find a way, to get myself back from your grab
I need to tell the truth, woman I can't replace you

Now I, I need to find a way, get myself out of this miserable place
Of this place, of this place

Well I can't let you go, no I can't let you go
You're a fixture in my brain and I can't live life this way
No I can't let you go, no I can't let you go
I'm running and running and running and running away
I can't let you go

No I can't let you go, no I can't let you go
You're a fixture in my brain and I can't live life this way
No I can't let you go, no I can't let you go
I'm running and running and running and running away
I can't let you go
