Well it's been three long years since we broke down
And I've been trying to climb back since
And it's been 3 long years since I saw your face
You're like a photo I can't keep

I've been trying too hard to let my hair down
But the feelings won't let go
I even heard our song today on the radio, you know

And I asked my doctor, can you cure this disease
He said he's trying, doesn't like what he sees

As the days turn to weeks and the weeks go by
She's the one thing on my mind
I've been trying so hard to forget her
But it's just a waste of time
Someone save me, save me from myself
I keep waiting
Need someone to save me right now
Oh, right now

But I've been trying my best to keep moving
The worst part is standing still
I can't help but wonder what you're doing
Or do you think of me at all
Can anybody help me, I'm a man without a cause
And I've fallen down with my face on the ground
I need saving before I do more

I asked my doctor, can you cure this disease
He said he's trying, doesn't like what he sees

As the days turn to weeks and the weeks go by
She's the one thing on my mind
I've been trying so hard to forget her
But it's just a waste of time

Someone save me, save me from myself

I keep waiting

For someone to save me right now

Is anybody there

Have I called a broken number, does anybody hear

Cause all I need, is a helping hand

I need someone to save me, I'm a broken, broken man

As the days turn to weeks and the weeks go by

She's the one thing on my mind

I've been trying so hard to forget her

But it's just a waste of time

Someone save me, save me from myself

I keep waiting

Need someone to save me

So I'm waiting

For someone to save me

I keep waiting

For someone to save me right now
