all in all we've made a pact, gonna do this to the end;
what always was and always will be right.
Now the past is passed away, gonna open up our minds
to all that lives beyond the firing line.

now that we found that it's over don't dream this is
over,
believe this real, you and I.
The truth becomes louder and clearer with space we've
come nearer,
and all that was real reignites between you and I.

we're shaping up the times have changed, gonna open up the sky.
It always was and always will be light.
But take your time to find the way, your gonna find it in the end.
Nature has a way of being right.

over,
believe this real, you and I.
The truth becomes louder and clearer with space we've
come nearer,

and all that was real reignites between you and I.

when all the world was passed away there's another
day, another way.
when all the world was passed away there's another
day, another way.

over,
believe this real, you and I.
The truth becomes louder and clearer with space we've
come nearer,
and all that was real reignites.

don't dream this is over be louder be bolder.
don't dream this is over be louder be bolder.

don't dream this over. don't dream this over.
