Why'd you have to leave in July
On a peaceful and serene summer night
I wish that you would have waited until September
Just a couple more memories to remember

I guess I had to pay you back to your lender
I guess I had to send you back to The Sender
But then again maybe you're gone till November
And maybe this is just a part of the agenda

Why'd you have to go so soon
We miss you

Why couldn't you come right home
When you seen the text message in your phone
I should've put my pradas on to come and find you
I could've told you that them niggs was behind you

I couldve told you all about my intuition
I couldve even brought the extra ammunition

But now you've m-m-m-moved so fuck you
Should've known from day one I couldnt trust you

Why'd you have to go so soon
We miss you

Why would they take you from me
Why the doctors could not stop the bleeding
If you in a better place then you free
Well then why can't they make me believe it

You said that you would leave these streets
And I know you didn't mean in a body bag
But now you see you not bullet proof
And I'm mad cause you the best that I ever had

Why'd you have to go so soon
We miss you

I'll never love again
