Kamen and D.Williams

There's someone standing at my door
Should i let them in
I've seen her face outside before
She used to be much better.

You make it so hard for yourself
You're always giving in
To people you don't understand
Are always out to get you

Father forgive me for what i have done
I never meant to leave her the lonely one
I tried so hard to help her in every way
There's only so much i can say

I'm guilty for believing
But i'm not guilty for hurting you
I'm guilty for believing
That you were ever gonna see it through.

You're followed everywhere you go
There's nothing for you here
I think it's best you leave this town
The sooner the better.

You've got to search inside your soul
And find the truth within
Only you can break these ties
And pull yourself together

Father forgive her for what she has done
You know who's to blame she's not the only one
They tried to destroy her by feeding her lies
I ask you to help her there's tears in her eyes

I'm guilty for believing
But i'm not guilty for hurting you
I'm guilty for believing
That you were ever gonna see it through.

Will you ever
Ever face up to your life
A thousand and one have survived.
Father forgive her for what she has done
You know who's to blame she's not the only one
They tried to destroy her by feeding her lies
I ask you to help her there's tears in her eyes.

Chorus out
