It's the buzz when I'm full
Of your sweet magnetic pull
It's the tug that I crave
It's how opposites behave
Is electricity all there is to you and me?
In the field, in the field
Where the static is revealed
If the north isn't true
Will I lose my way to you?
Is electricity all there is to you and me?
Chorus:
What's gonna happen when the magnetism fades?

Will we burn up one bright day?
Will the aurora borealis give us one last show?
You can't leave love to science when you go.
In the deep molten heart
Where these strange attractions start
If we are passionate
Will this rock remember it?
Is electricity all there is to you and me?
