Think about the way a flower lives
Can't take a picture of The energy it gives
'Cause you can't capture love.

We pollinate each other
Yet we're so self-concerned
When all of us are sisters, brothers
Look at our mother earth and learn to

See what life can rise to be
We're given eyes so we
Would be so wise to
Look beyond

Thinkin' about the day in terms of when the sun will set You capture the picture, postcard, moment for tomorrow
Instead of just soakin' up the light 'cause it's not over yet
You got to let it go. We all, we got to let it go and

See what life can rise to be
We're given eyes so we

Would be so wise to
Look beyond

Think about how long the world has lasted
And what came before
Today we're too distracted
Can't focus anymore

But if we knew what was
Then we could know what is to come
Feel connected just because Deep inside each one of us can

See what life can rise to be
We're given eyes so we
Would be so wise to
Look beyond

See what life can rise to be
We're given eyes so we
Would be so wise to
Look beyond
