Got these memories
Swimming laps around my head
Nowhere to go but circles
And no use to pray for breath

If all roads lead Rome
And my home is your home
Then why'd you go
I wanna know will I see you

Indescribable
Unjustifiable
'Cause you're not goodbye-able

So much love, now from above
You're watching, dancing with the wind
I'm singing through this candle to you
Pray it's not just pretend
And burning for a little more
Of my best friend
You gave me music gave me soul
Paved the way so I could grow
Waved goodbye and now I know
Though the flame will bend, I'll never let you go

The trivialities
Stupid stories, photos that remain
It's all the same
But it's all that's left and I'll make the claim that

The games we played, advice you gave
Will not be thrown away

I like to say
They linger in

Affection and
A helping hand
This boy will soon become a man like you

So much love, now from above
You're watching, dancing with the wind

I'm singing through this candle to you
Pray it's not just pretend
And burning for a little more
Of my best friend
You gave me music gave me soul
Paved the way so I could grow
Waved goodbye and now I know
Though the flame will bend, I'll never let you go

It's so unfair
You've gone somewhere
The empty air
Appears to share this feeling

So much love, now from above
You're watching, dancing with the wind
I'm singing through this candle to you
Pray it's not just pretend
And burning for a little more
Of my best friend
You gave me music gave me soul
Paved the way so I could grow
Waved goodbye and now I know
Though the flame will bend, I'll never let you go
