Sun begins to chase the shadows
The wind starts playing with the candles
We can only run no place to hide

If there's a place called inspiration
It's the final destination
Meet me where the dark turns into light

Somewhere in between what's wrong and right
On the edge of reason
We will run across the endless night
To find a deeper meaning
Don't stop now
I'll be right behind
To make sure
We will get it right this time

Goes by so slowly
All the things I got to know
All seem to disappear
The world is changing fast

City sirens in the distance
Shake this night into existence
Present slowly fading into past

Somewhere in between what's wrong and right
On the edge of reason
We will run across the endless night
To find a deeper meaning
Don't stop now
I'll be right behind
To make sure
We will get it right this time

So don't stop now
I'll make sure
We will get it right

Sun begins to chase the shadows
Wind defeated all the candles

Meet me where the dark turns into light
