"When Summer Ends"

Ever since I met you
I've been waiting for the snow to fall
Waiting for the moon to call
The sun out of my eyes
And I can't help but wonder
Why you would spend your days with me
Why you would have your way with me
Why you're with me at all

And I wish it was forever
But nothing lasts forever at all, no

I know our time is now
Still I tell myself somehow
This thing won't end as it began
You're still here
When summer ends

Another day is dawning
And I can't believe the lie I see
You're standing right in front of me
A wonder to my eyes
And I don't dare to look away
Afraid that you might disappear
And you were never really here
It's all been in my mind again

And I wish it was forever
But nothing lasts forever at all, at all

I know our time is now
Still I tell myself somehow
This thing won't end as it began
You're still here
When summer ends

I used to prefer to be lonely
But you seem to be the only
One I can't let go

I know our time is now

Still I tell myself somehow
This thing won't end as it began
You're still here
When summer ends, ooh

This thing, ooh
This love won't end as it began
You'll still be here
When summer ends

Ever since I met you
I've been waiting for the snow to fall
