"Checkout Time"

Iâ€™m 61 years old now, Lord I never thought Iâ€™d see 30
Though I know this road is still some way to go
I canâ€™t help thinking of Will I be beloved and celebrated for my masterly climb?
Or just another bum when to comes to checkout time?

Iâ€™m fearful my chances of crossing over Jordan into glory
May be compromised by the pies Iâ€™ve had my fingers in Must I be condemned, forever damned for some long-forgotten crime?
Or singinâ€™ "Rock of Ages" with the angels soon
after checkout time.

Yes and when itâ€™s time to pay the bill Iâ€™m gonna get my bag and then I will Go wait in the first cabby line (line)
Gonna make this the day to remember the checkout time

Must I be condemned, forever damned for some long-
forgotten crime?
Or singinâ€™ "Rock of Ages" with the angels soon
after checkout time.
