All the times I can't be with you and you get tired of being left alone
And your mind needs reassuring that for me you're still the only one
This love I have for you is stronger now than it's ever been So if you ever get the feeling I don't love you, feel
again

Darling, all you have to do to feel the love I have for you is touch me
And you can't help but know there's a world of love that's burning deep within Every day I'm thankful that I have you as a lover and a friend
So if you ever get the feeling I don't love you, feel
again

you is touch me
And you can't help but know there's a world of love
that's burning deep within
friend
So if you ever get the feeling I don't love you, feel
again
If you ever get the feeling I don't love you, just feel
again
