Am I the moth that keeps falling for your light bulb?
Am I the headland that keeps falling for your seed??
Am I the iceberg, are you that global warming?
Am I Israel, and are you the West Bank?
Should I get the fk out?

Am I the object in the rear view mirror?
Am I a lot closer than I appear?
I'll be your co-driver, I'll be your go-faster stripes
In every flick of your hair my soul delights

Do I make your happy, I know I make you laugh
And though they're all the same family I know it isn't enough

Nobody moves me, nobody moves me
Nobody moves me like you do

Now if there's a Moses up there
Won't he please come down
For I fear I'm the Israelites
And you're a golden cow
Am I the doggy in the window
Am I a metaphor to far
I just don't know how to be with you
Now that I'm without

Do I make your happy, I know I make you laugh
And though they're all the same family I know it isn't

Nobody moves me, nobody moves me
Nobody moves like you move me
