"Some Little Noise"

Some little noise and that was all,
Made me get up while it was dark,
And I left the light off.

Found myself looking out the door,
Never seen at this hour before,
And it was beautiful.

And I did surrender, wish I'd let go forever
But I won't remember to tomorrow.

And everything was just as it should be,
The birds were singing to me
And I felt my heart beat

And I did feel better, wish I'd be so forever
But I won't be here again tomorrow

Oh I didn't stay there for too long
As soon as I felt it, it was gone
But I blessed the grace.

And I sensed a chance there and I was glad I was there,
But I'll be somewhere else this time tomorrow.
