let the pieces fall where they will consequence is of no consequence to me now you say 'live in the moment' but i have lost touch, logic has no power over me now i have been wound up so tight i have been bathed in fright do you know how a spring like that snaps?

maybe i more than you lately i, more than anytime I've known have danced the dance with life that makes you beg the music stop

I've seen that look in your eyes that says 'oh if only she'd try, she'd be twirling with the rhythm'
but i just hear a thud deafening it powers through me now and it wants red hot blood and it wants drama not love do you know how a song like that goes?

maybe i more than you
