Visit "Your Lies" on MotoLyrics.com

you tell pretty lies but when we're eye to eye the ugly truth comes out and i cannot believe what i hear from your mouth i've heard all that i can take no we are not the same and i must get away from the things you do twisted and cruel you'll get a knife in me too

you use words as weapons oh i've learned my lesson you're no friend to anyone but you
oh i am defenseless
your tongue gets sharper everyday your lies your lies your lies you can't help yourself i've seen the way you smile when your words hit hard you can take the truth and twist it round and prove the opposite of anything oh it's all fun & games; when it all goes your way you've a magic charm and you do such harm but your golden smile protects you

go ahead if you want to ;count me out soon you'll have no one to talk to;have no doubt.
