

The Lake Poets

"Windowsill"

Visit "Windowsill" on MotoLyrics.com now come on you said you would go out tonight your feeling not so good but who knows you might come on we've got tonight just me and you i am your satellite if you only knew

cause you're watching the world from your windowsill trying to figure it out so much love past your windowsill
but you've got your fears and your doubts in a picture i have of you you're pale and white and you look so miserable how do you feel inside

come on we've got tonight just me and you you can go out tonight if you only knew but you're watching the world from your windowsill

trying to figure it out
so much love past your windowsill
but you've got your fears and your doubts

cause you're watching the world from your windowsill
trying to figure it out
so much love past your windowsill
but you've got your fears and your doubts
but you've got your fears and your doubts
but you've got your fears and your doubts
but you've got your fears and your doubts
but you've got your fears and your doubts

Visit The Lake Poets page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.