"Sometimes"

Come around to see the world I've made for you
Take your time and just screw me well
I'll stick around and read your mind
You know that nothing matters as long as you're near
Near me

See the world and trace the life that use to bleed
Wash away all the pain you hold inside
Stick around and read your mind
You know that nothing matters as long as you're near
Near me

Sometimes I fall and show myself to you
Sometimes I rise against what is not me
Sometimes I cry to hide my anger
Sometimes I lie to you

Come around to see the world I've made for you
Take your time and just screw me well
I'll stick around and read your mind
You know that nothing matters as long as you're near
Near me

Sometimes I fall and show myself to you
Sometimes I rise against what is not me
Sometimes I cry to hide my anger
Sometimes Oh I lie to you
