Activate the sign, tune in the world.
Broaden the signal, open their minds.
Force down opinion, nothing to holdback.
Conquer it all, and then relax.

Just relax, and relax, and relax

It's been hard waking up, getting up for anything.
I find this world confusing, too controlling and meddling.

In my affairs, current and past,
social and economic,
love, hate and art.

They watch you while you're working,
follow you in your dreams.
They've conquered our spirit
and now we've only one thing.

The music, the melody the tunes that make us happy.
The music, the melody the tunes that make us say hey.
The music, the melody the tunes that make us happy.
The music, the melody the tunes that make us say hey.
Hey, hey.

Activate the sign, tune in the world.
Broaden the signal, open their minds.
Force down opinion, nothing to holdback.
Conquer it all, and then relax.

Relax in the music,
after all it's all we've got,
all we've got is it.

The music, (the music), the melody the tunes that make us happy.
The music, the melody the tunes that make us say hey.
The music, the melody the tunes that make us happy.
The music, the melody the tunes that make us say hey.
Hey, hey.

Activate the sign, tune in the world.
Broaden the signal, open their minds.
Force down opinion, nothing to holdback.
Conquer it all, and then relax.□
