Kells, to my fans
Hold me down mufucka
And that's all I say

[Verse 1:]

When that crowd leave would you stay for me?
And if I don't become what they thought I was In the time I should and my hype dies, would you wait for me?
Or be ashamed of me if I chose to bow out gracefully
Cause I know if I don't wanna lose myself
Then Hollywood ain't no place for me
What if I told you I ain't quit
And these drugs still is my rivals
Would you regret the fact that you sobered up
And had more heart than your idol
Or accept the fact that I'm just human, borderline suicidal
And is it blasphemous that these two fingers mean more to me than my bible?
Lord help cause I'm hell bound
With the weight of the world I'm held down Feels like I'm in hell now, maybe that's why I'm havin' this meltdown
Maybe that's why I hate fame, maybe that's why these J's lit
Cause I speak the real and get criticize
So I inhale and don't say shit
And I wake up, to the same shit
Cameras on with their hands out
And that fake smile that I hate now
Cause they're the one say I sold out They're the one that will break out when I needed food for my daughter
And I'm the one who can't grow up so these fans will replace my father
And these girls will replace my momma, they give me love, I don't take it Cause fuck love, these fucking hugs weren't around before I made it
And since I don't have no family EST is all that I got

Either drop me now or you die for life
Man it's EST or it's not.

[Hook:]

[DUB-O:]

This shit ain't right (uh)
Cause we never dead wrong or it's my fault (my fault)
This is my life (my life)
Now tell me are you gon' ride 'till the wheels fall off?

[MGK:]

Till the nightmares done
Till the grey hairs come
Till the friendship dissappear that we've had since day one
I said this is my life
So tell me are you gon' ride 'till the wheels fall off?

[Verse 2:]

What if this is our climax?
What if everything peaks here?
What if we never get big and these days add on like leap year?
What if you were in my shoes?
Do you think you can fit em?
Or would put that gun to your fuckin head
And regret the fact that you in em
Cause this ain't living, this shit prison
Whatever you see in videos, this isn't Whatever I thought I knew, shit I didn't
Dealing with the consequences of my decision
Straight to the life of a lonely child
That couldn't find anyone to get through
For a life that's filled with cameras
Criticize everytime that I move
For the love I got for my fans
And the loyalty for my mans
Equaled out to the shows we dreamed of
With them bodies pack to those stands
And I did what they say I can't
So I'm living proof that you can Go be great, chase your dream
We only got one life and one chance.
