Attempted emotional destruction painful conversation, heading nowhere new you tear me down just so that you can bend me out just the way you like so I look like a fool
You cannot hurt me
You cannot break me in two
You cannot take away all that I believe in That's what I'm telling you
You fill me up and pour me out across the floor Stand in awe of what you've said Enjoy the moment where you look like like you have won
And take a long hard look at me again
You cannot hurt me
You cannot break me in two
You cannot take away all that I believe in That's what I'm telling you, I'm telling you I'm made of more, more than what I live and breathe
I'm living for more than anything that hurts me [break, chorus]
